DuosTech to enhance and innovate Baptist Health security infrastructure with the deployment of its centraco™ command and control platform.

JACKSONVILLE, FL, October 14, 2011 – Duos Technologies, Inc. (Duos), an industry leader in digital video surveillance and analytics, entered into a five-year Master Agreement with Baptist Health South Florida (BHSF). BHSF is the largest not-for-profit health care organization in the region. The Agreement, which is valued at over five million dollars, includes major upgrades to BHSF's current video surveillance infrastructure, the centralization of video security and emergency communication platforms and full service and support at all BHSF facilities for a period of five years.

Baptist Health has deployed Duos' digital video surveillance systems as part of its long-term safety and security program since 2002. Currently, BHSF monitors over 1,100 surveillance cameras and 64 emergency reporting stations system wide. As a result of this Agreement, BHSF's video security infrastructure will expand to over 1,500 security cameras by January 2012. These systems provide a critical means of securing the organization's premises and real estate holdings, as well as protecting patients, staff, and the general public. Under this contract, Duos will upgrade all of the institution's installed surveillance systems to its next generation praesidium® based intelligent software technology, enabling the introduction of advanced security features and video analytics applications. This award includes the system wide implementation of the centraco™ command and control platform, Duos' next-generation physical security information management (PSIM) system which will allow management of all security installations from BHSF's command center.

"We are excited by this renewed commitment from the Baptist Health Enterprises organization, which substantially expands both the scope and the privilege of our partnership with one of the most modern and forward thinking health care organizations in the country. We are especially grateful for BHSF's continued confidence in our company, our systems, and, most important, our people," said Gianni Arcaini, Chairman and CEO of Duos. "This contract positions these facilities to reap the benefits of the next generation of intelligent technologies in infrastructure security and sets the standard for all future installations."
